Report of Town Historian – April 2023

Queries:

- 1) Vivian Wadlin requested information about Ulster Dorp Farm – the wonderful stone barns destroyed when the new approach to the Mid-Hudson Bridge was built. I found a large file on the Roberts estate; correspondence in the file mentioned a donation of Grace Robert’s memoirs to several institutions. After contacting Vassar College, Scenic Hudson and the Huguenot Society with no success, I found the memoir stapled to the back of another report.
- 2) Marilyn Petreschock, Highland Elementary School Librarian, interviewed me about all the various sources for local history and how they are organized.
- 3) William Johnson, trustee of Dorothy A. Johnson trust had questions about a survey of 57 Oakes done by Allen Hasbrouck in 1965. I showed him how to view properties on the Ulster County Parcel viewer, found additional information about the property in the Lloyd Assessors files, and directed him to the Tax Mapping people at Ulster County Real Property Dept.

Donations:

- 1) None this month

Rail trail signage:

- 1) No news.

Abraham Elting Cemetery – now known as the New Paltz Landing Slave Cemetery

- 1) Dave Barton built a frame to hold the sign and Dave, the chief and I erected the sign at the cemetery on Apr. 18.
- 2) Two members of the Highway Dept, the chief and I cleared a path to the cemetery on Apr 27. The daffodils we planted in Jan. are in bloom. Thanks to everyone for their wonderful help.

Research on local sites

I did a lot of research on the two families that owned the property that is now the Franny Reese Park. My presentation is about half finished.

I reviewed the Comprehensive Plan – Vision Report Draft and submitted my comments to the Town Supervisor.
